SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,
Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

Beneath the hatches the platoon of soldiers and the men there imprisoned were yelling and making a tremendous racket. They were helpless, however, and could do nothing. The men of the boarding parties were clustered in groups forward and aft and around the closed passageways into the interior of the ship waiting for the next order.

The noise and confusion which had followed the sentry's bold shot had awakened the attention of the people of the town. Lights twinkled on the ramparts of the fort, and the long roll of a drum could be heard coming faintly up the harbor against the wind. Lord Carlingford had just entered his boat to board the ship. There was not a moment to lose.

"Hornigold, go forward with your men to the forecabin. Vessels, come you hither with yours for the after guard; Teach to the fore, Ravenau to the main and Rock to the mizen-mast. Loose sail. Lively now. We must get out of this before the fort's awake," cried Morgan.

Instantly the shrouds were covered with nimble forms making their way aloft where the wide yardarms stretched far over the sea. The men were in good spirits, the capture of the ship had been so easy. There had been only the anchor watch and the sentry on deck to deal with, and they had been murdered unsuspecting, although the cabin sentry had killed one of the attacking party and wounded another before he went down. They jumped with alacrity, therefore, to obey their captain's commands. As the ponderous sheets of canvas fell from aloft, and sheets and halyards were manned, the cable that moored the vessel to the anchor was cut, the ship swung to starboard, the yards were braced in, and she began to slip through the water toward the narrow mouth of the harbor. There were other war vessels in the harbor, but they were all dismantled and laid up in ordinary, so the buccaneers had no pursuit to fear.

The guns of the fort commanded the harbor mouth and under ordinary circumstances would have made it impossible for a ship to enter or leave without permission. The mouth was narrow and dangerous, but the best pilot in the West Indies stood forward leaning over the knightheads, conning the ship. Ravenau and Vessels, than whom no better seamen ever held a spoke, by Morgan's orders were stationed at the wheel to steer the frigate, Rock and Teach distributed the best of the men among the guns of the spar deck battery on the port side. As was usual, the guns were already charged. There were no loggheads available, no matches with which to fire them, but Morgan instructed those who seemed to have some skill in gunnery, whom he placed in temporary charge of the cannon, how to fire them by snapping their pistols at the touch-holes, which were primed from a powderhorn that had been brought by the pirates.

The land breeze was fresh and strong, and the Mary Rose vindicated her claim to be considered a fast sailer. She fairly ripped down the harbor, threading her way through the channel under Hornigold's nice pilotage until she came near to the narrow entrance. By Morgan's orders each man re-

"Wouldst sit in my place?"

HOW TO WIN A HUSBAND.

Woman's sphere in this 20th century is not limited any more than man's. She can occupy almost any business position or profession, and yet the popular view of womanhood is that she best fits the position of wife and mother and head of the household. Every girl should know her heart and also know that her womanly system is equal to the strain of marriage. If a girl is nervous and irritable ten chances to one it is due to some trouble peculiar to womanhood.

Cupid has no place in a girl's heart if she is nervous and irritable. Dragged down, worn out for no reason that she can think of. The weak back, dizzy spells and black circles about the eyes are only symptoms. Go to the source of the trouble and correct the irregularity. Stop the drains on the womanly system and the other symptoms will disappear. This can be done easily and intelligently. So sure of it is the World's Dispensary Medical Association, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of leucorrhea, female weakness, prolapsus, or falling of the womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"Your Favorite Prescription" cured me of ulceration and inflammation, from which I suffered for many years," writes Mrs. Delphia Wheaton, President Santa Barbara Lawn Tennis Club, Arlington Hotel, Santa Barbara, Calif. "Health was completely broken down when I began its use and I was in dreadful pain most of the time, but ten bottles cured me."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

The ship swept around slightly and rushed directly at the boat. It was the boat of the governor. Instantly wild cries arose from the men on the thwarts. They were stopped by a stern voice:

"Aho, the Mary Rose!"

Silence.

"Aho, the frigate! What are you doing? Where is Admiral Kempthorne?"

At that instant the soldiers beneath the hatches suddenly resumed their commotion, thus apprising the men in the boat that something was sadly wrong.

"Larboard your helm!" cried a voice from the boat, "or you'll be on us. Who's in command? What are you about?"

"Sir Harry Morgan!" shouted a voice out of the darkness. "And we mean to run you down!"

"Back water, for God's sake! Stern all!" cried Lord Carlingford to the paralyzed rowers, but before they could move the looming bow of the frigate was upon them. Carlingford had risen in his boat before the collision, and with dauntless courage he shook his bared sword in the darkness toward the ship.

"The king will triumph!" he cried.

A terrible smashing crash cut short his words, and amid the ripping, tearing sound of the parting timbers of the overriden boat and shouts, cries and appeals for mercy the Mary Rose swept on.

A wild yell of elation broke from the pirates. They were completely possessed by their success now, but Morgan stopped the noise in an instant.

"Silence!" roared the captain. "We are not yet free! Back to your stations! Stand by the larboard battery!"

At that time the entrance to the harbor was very narrow, and the channel swept close under the Port Royal shore. Everybody in the town knew that something had happened on the frigate. The garrison of the fort was out, and the guns were loaded and bore fair upon the channel. Softly, for they were within earshot distance of the fort, Morgan passed the word to train the guns of the battery on the parapet of the fort. He also told off all the men with small arms to line the side, with instructions for them to fire at the portholes of the fort as they passed, and he charged every one under pain of death to keep all fast until he gave the word. Hornigold bent all his mind to getting the ship safely out of the harbor. Two or three reliable men were stationed in the gangway, whose sole business it was to repeat his commands without fail during the confusion, no matter what happened. They were right in the entrance now and coming opposite the fort. The men below were still keeping up a great noise, but a hail which came across the water from the rampart was entirely audible, the distance not being more than half pistol shot.

"The king will triumph!"

"Hello, the Mary Rose! Hello, the frigate!"

"Aye, aye! What is it?"

"Where are you going? Where's Lord Carlingford?"

There was no answer. The rapidly moving ship was fairly abreast the fort now. In thirty seconds she would be beyond it.

"We have killed the governor and Kempthorne, and this is the ship of Sir Henry Morgan, bound for the Spanish main on a buccaneering cruise. Fire!"

A perfect hail of shot at point blank range belched forth from the twenty-four guns of the harbor battery of the crumbling ship. In the surprise and confusion caused by this murderous discharge at short range the frigate slipped by, and, although every gun in the fort, whether it bore or not, was finally discharged by the infuriated soldiery, no serious damage was done to the ship. Here and there a man fell. Pointing an effective musketry and pistol fire upon the surprised garrison, the frigate slipped through the channel. Before the cannon could be reloaded they were out of range. There before them lay the open sea, bounded to the southward by the rich and unprotected cities of the Spanish main.

"We're out of the harbor, sir," cried Hornigold, coming aft to where Morgan stood triumphant on the poop.

"That's well!" said the commander. "Secure the guns and muster the crew. We'll divide into watches and bear away to the southward."

"Long live Sir Henry Morgan, king of the buccaneers!" cried a voice out of the darkness, and amid a tremendous roar of cheers the vessel swept away.

No Known Motive for Act.

Michigan City, Ind., May 22.—J. J. Sullivan, twenty-two years old, leaped through the car window while the westbound Michigan Central train was going fifty miles an hour, and was instantly killed near Lake station. Papers in the dead man's possession stated that he was on his way from his home in Ireland. He had considerable money on his person and no cause was given for the act.

WORSE AND WORSE

Chicago Strike Situation Assumes More Threatening Aspect.

PROMISES TO SPREAD

Attitude of the Teamsters' Relative to Express Drivers Cancels All Talk of Peace.

Everything To-day Points to an Extension of the Strike to Other Lines of Business.

Chicago, May 22.—Sunday brought no change in the attitude of either side to the labor controversy now in progress in Chicago, and everything to-day points to an extension of the teamsters' strike to many other business houses during the week. The officials of the seven express companies whose refusal to reinstate any of their striking employees caused the collapse of the settlement of the trouble Saturday night, still adhere to their determination not to give employment to any of their former employees, and the other firms involved in the difficulty declare that they will stand by the express companies in the fight. The teamsters' union has taken just as firm a stand as the employers, and it is stated by President Shea that the union will never call off the strike until the express companies come to terms.

The first spread of the strike is expected to come when the lumbermen's association, an organization employing 2,400 teamsters, issues an order to their men to make deliveries to all business houses regardless of whether they are involved in the strike or not. In anticipation of such an order the teamsters met Sunday afternoon and voted to go on strike should any teamster be discharged for refusing to obey the order of the association. With non-union drivers making deliveries for the lumbermen the trouble will undoubtedly spread to affiliated industries, as the union men employed on buildings will refuse to handle material delivered by non-union labor. Should this strike be called there seems to be nothing that can prevent a general industrial upheaval in Chicago.

TROUBLE AGGRAVATED

Race Prejudice Adds to Difficulties of Strike Situation.

Chicago, May 22.—Chicago is threatened with a race war of serious proportions. Embittered by the shooting of Enoch Carlson, an eight-year-old boy, last week, by two negroes, the residents in the vicinity of Twenty-ninth and Dearborn streets have armed themselves and clashes between whites and colored men have become so frequent since the Carlson murder that it has been found necessary to detail scores of policemen in the district to preserve peace. Even this precaution has been unsuccessful in keeping the opposing factions apart.

In a riot which broke out in this district last night between the whites and the blacks, James Gray, colored, was killed, Harry Bernstein was mortally wounded and a building in which Bernstein was being held a captive, suffering from four bullet wounds, was stoned and partly wrecked by a mob of 1,000 persons.

The police at central station were notified of the trouble and two patrol wagons and an ambulance filled with policemen were hurried to the scene, but it was only after a desperate fight in which several of the rioters were badly bruised by the policemen's clubs that the mob was forced back.

Another exhibition of the feeling existing between the whites and the blacks was given late last night when Charles Poske was shot in the shoulder by a colored man, at whom he had been shooting during a disturbance at Twenty-third street and Stewart avenue. Poske is watchman in a coal-yard, and it is asserted by him that several negroes started a quarrel with him and tried to kill him.

Sending Only White Men.

Kansas City, May 22.—F. G. Curry, the strike breaker, who has been in this city for several days recruiting men, received a telegram last night from the secretary of the Chicago employers' association, instructing him to send to Chicago all of the men he can secure. Only white men are being sent.

Troops May Be Called.

Chicago, May 22.—Mayor Dunne today said: "Should there be an extension of the strike and the rioting of two weeks ago resumed, there is a probability that troops will be called upon to maintain order."

Graeco-Macedonian Tilt.

Athens, May 22.—An encounter between Graeco-Macedonian bands and a strong Turkish detachment is reported to have occurred in the district of Langadina in Macedonia. Eleven insurgents and fifty Turks are reported to have been killed.

St. Petersburg, May 22.—Vice Admiral Birleff, who will have command of sea and land forces at Vladivostok, will leave for the far East on May 23.

GOT IDEA FROM A PLAY

Dramatic Realism Leads a Child to Murder.

Toronto, May 22.—Josephine Carr, a thirteen-year-old girl, has confessed to the murder of William Murray, a nine-months-old infant. It is claimed of the Carr girl that she has been in the habit of stealing baby carriages from the front of a department store while the parents were inside shopping. The police have recovered several of these carriages, which had been sold to neighbors. Last Friday the girl went to a department store and found a baby in each carriage in front of the store. So she picked out the best-looking baby carriage of the lot, which contained the Murray child, and made off with it. She took the child to the woods near her home at the east end of the city, and stripping it of its clothing threw it over an embankment and caused its death. Later she placed the body in a culvert and buried the clothing. On Saturday she made the announcement that she had "discovered" the child's body in the culvert. She was immediately suspected, and when accused of the crime she made a confession. The girl claimed that she got the plan of killing the child from seeing a play at a local theater.

The church is erected on the spot where stood the Methodist Episcopal church which he joined when he was fourteen years old. A year ago it was torn down and the new one erected. Among those who contributed to the building of the new church was Mrs. McKinley.

Important Testimony. St. Petersburg, May 22.—The commission investigating the surrender of Port Arthur has finished the first half of its labors. The investigation of the documentary evidence presented by General Stoessel in his own defense tended to show that the fortress at the outbreak of the war was nearly defenseless, without supplies or cash.

A COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

First Step in Long Contemplated Movement to Co-ordinate Military and Naval Activities.

Russia Awakened to the Need of Doing Something to Restore Her National Prestige.

St. Petersburg, May 22.—The first step toward the institution of the long contemplated council of national defense, to co-ordinate the activities of the military and naval administrations has been taken in an imperial manifesto creating a special preliminary commission under the presidency of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholasovitch.

The manifesto is preceded by a re-script which Emperor Nicholas has addressed to the grand duke, which concludes with the expression of the conviction that the commission will carry out the task confided to it without delay and with the care and undivided attention which the high importance of the new institution demands.

The formation of the council and the assumption by it of control of the war is expected to ensue shortly, as the main details have already been worked out. The dispatch of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholasovitch, who is designated as the president of the permanent state defense council, to Manchuria to assume direct command of the imperial forces there, has been several times seriously considered, and he has served repeatedly of late as representative of the emperor on commissions dealing with vital questions of the war.

The existing council of war, which has proved unsatisfactory, will be superseded by the new body. The step is an extremely important one, for which the events of the war in the far East have shown the necessity, the two departments failing to work together to the best advantage, even when actuated by the most harmonious feelings, and friction has been often manifested. Many opportunities for helpful co-operation between the two arms of the service are constantly arising, and if Vice Admiral Rojestvensky succeeds in reaching Vladivostok and shaking the Japanese mastery of the sea, the council will play a very weighty role. At the same time, the council is created, not for the present war, but as a permanent organism of the state, subordinating the war and navy departments and even overshadowing the czar's ministers.

It is understood the formation of the new council means the definite abandonment of the plan of sending Grand Duke Nicholas to the far East to assume supreme command on land and sea. General Linvitch and Vice Admiral Birleff will be left unhampered except as to the grand outlines of strategy.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Dangers and Pains of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period, and may be relied upon to overcome all distressing symptoms and carry them safely through to a healthy and happy old age.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland, of Chestertown, Md., in a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, says:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the change of life. My womb was badly swollen. I had a good deal of soreness, dizzy spells, headaches, and was very nervous. I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me, and I have passed safely through the change of life a well woman."

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.

Feltner Seeks Protection.

Lexington, Ky., May 22.—In answer to the letter of R. B. Feltner appealing for his recommendation to the governor that troops be sent with him to Jackson, Ky., Judge Riddell has communicated with Feltner's attorneys and extending the time for Feltner's appearance at Jackson from today until Thursday. The extension was allowed that he might investigate the alleged need of military protection. In his communications to Governor Beckham and the circuit judge, Feltner expressed fear that he would be assassinated because of his evidence in the trial of Judge James Hargis on the charge of conspiracy in the murder of James Cockrill. The governor agreed to send troops if recommended by Judge Riddell. Feltner will appear Thursday to answer to an indictment charging him with the murder of Jesse Fields and a motion for a change of venue will then be entered.

Whites Besieged by Japs.

Honolulu, May 22.—Most of the white population at Lahaina, on the island of Maui, including the military, are prisoners in the courthouse, surrounded by striking Japanese laborers. One Japanese was killed and two wounded by the plantation police during an attack on a plantation mill. The entire 2,300 Japanese laborers on the island are now on strike and are showing violent mood. The steamer Kinahu left Honolulu Sunday afternoon, taking national guard company F, consisting of thirty men and forty armed Honolulu police to the scene of the trouble.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it has found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SATURDAY the Chicago strike was reported about over, but today report comes that all hope of peace has been abandoned and it is now a fight to a finish.

THE Sunday Sentinel contained a good article written by a staff correspondent pointing out the superior advantages of Seymour for the location of the new hospital for the insane. He visited this city recently and after looking the field over says that here is the "logical point for the institution." That is the exact truth.

M. E. Conference.

Quite a number of Methodist ministers and other members of that denomination were in the city this morning between trains on their way to Brownstown to attend district conference. The first session of the conference will be held this evening and the sermon will be by Rev. Ried, of Franklin. Presiding Elder Baxter will preside and Dr. J. A. Sargent, of this city, has a place on the program. The attendance will likely be above the average.

Assessments Complete.

The township assessors have completed the work of listing property for taxation and are making their reports to the auditor. The Board of Review, composed of the auditor, treasurer, county assessor and two members appointed by the circuit judge, will meet the first of June to do the work that Judge Lewis has not named the two members that he is to appoint.

Feared a Mob.

The sheriff at Bedford heard rumors Saturday evening that a mob was being formed at Leesville to take Virgil Wilson from his custody and lynch him. Armed deputies were on guard all night but no mob appeared. Wilson is the man who is charged with shooting at Silas Guth and his wife.

Miss Shields Entertained.

At her home on North Chestnut Street Saturday evening Miss Mable Shields entertained a number of her friends in honor of Misses Aileen DeFries and Maud Vawter of Cincinnati. The evening was most pleasantly spent with games and music for diversion. Refreshments were served.

Pastor Resigns.

Rev. L. S. Sanders who has been pastor of the Clearspring Baptist church for the past year tendered his resignation Sunday and closed his work at night. He is now acting as field agent for the Louisville Baptist Orphans Home and his work is very largely in Kentucky at present.

STRONG ADDRESS.

Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Austin B. Conrad.

At the First Baptist church Sunday evening fifteen graduates of the Shields High school were most truly incited to noble lives and a large concourse of interested persons listened to an address of rare eloquence. Rev. Austin B. Conrad, pastor of that church delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the eager auditors with force and a depth of anxious feeling for the future welfare of those just ready to take up real active life.

Special music had been prepared for the occasion by the choir of the Baptist church and was thoroughly appreciated. Rev. C. E. Severinghaus, of the German Methodist church led in a most impressive prayer.

Rev. Conrad took his theme from the words in the nineteenth verse of the thirty-seventh chapter of Genesis—"Behold, this dreamer cometh." His whole address was devoted to the thought of youthful vision and ideals and their consummation in achievements. He took examples from the lives of poets, sculptors, inventors, all great men, and told how the inspirations of their youth contributed largely to the success and glory which they later attained. With Abraham, Joseph, Jacob and other Bible characters illustrative, visions were shown to be a panacea for the ills of the world—a remedy for the stings and wounds of life. The hopes and resolves of the morning were said to be a help through the whole day.

Visions of christian lives, visions of better society demand our obedience. The ideas which are gained early in life either make or unmake their receiver and only when the aspirations are upward and onward with purpose high and determination strong will the life be as intended in the infinite purpose.

The retrospect having been spoken of, the thought of "What shall the issues be?" was brought forth. With a charge to the graduates to measure their responsibilities and an injunction to them to dare to be and do the best they know, the real successful life was told to be the one, not merely of position, but of character, "pure in the eyes of God. 'Freely ye have received, freely give' were the well-known words by which the graduates were enjoined to commence their new life. That the measure of greatness will be the store of spiritual treasure acquired was the closing thought of the address, than which none better could be given to the young men and women just now fitting themselves to learn the lesson of life.

Rev. Dr. G. W. Shields addressed the teachers and pupils of the city schools together with the congregation of the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at that church with the words "And their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, but according to the language of each people." found in Nehemiah XIII: 24, as his text for a sermon of great worth to the assembly of those whose lives were devoted to the interests of education. The two thoughts of the place in which the public school system of our nation stood in the affection of the people and the obligation that moral training should have a distinct position in the schools were convincingly explained and brought a realization of duty to those involved in educational affairs.

A comparison between the place in which inferior things stood in the hearts of the country's citizens with the place in which public school training was resting was clearly delineated. A comparison between the expenditure for warfare with that in the interests of education was well outlined. That the highest end of the school work would never be realized and this great institution would fail in its service for the nation unless the mere culture of the intellect be placed before the spread of christianity was set forth along with the idea that the national government should be permeated with conformity to the spirit of Christian religion, and that without this anarchism would prevail.

Dr. Shields concluded his excellent address with praise and thanksgiving for the growing sentiment towards giving the training of the mental powers a larger place in the hearts of the people, resulting in a regeneration of our country and its people.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Nat Hill Being Talked of for State Chairman.

Indianapolis, May 22.—State Treasurer Nat U. Hill may eventually be brought out as a candidate for chairman of the Republican state committee. Some time ago when there was considerable talk about the chairmanship Hill's name was quietly suggested by some of the "powers that be" and he was pleased with the idea of stepping into Chairman Goodrich's shoes, although he did not say he would be a candidate. He would not, however, make a race against Goodrich, but should the latter decide to retire, and if his friends should urge him to ask for the place he would probably go after it with the energy that has characterized all his political movements. It will probably be admitted generally that Hill has many qualities that go to make a strong chairman. He has a very wide acquaintance and was popular as a candidate for treasurer. Owing to his aggressiveness he has made some enemies, but he is a fighter from the ground up for the party, and it is pointed out that he would make such a chairman as the Hon. John K. Gowdy was in the stormy campaign in which he held the reins. No deal is being framed up to elect Hill, but the suggestion of his name is meeting with much favor.

It looks as if the principal fights at the next Republican state convention will be for treasurer and appellate court judges. There is a large field of candidates for these places, whereas there is a prospect of there being only a very limited number of entries for others. Judge Black of this city will be a unique figure in the free-for-all for appellate judge. He has probably been in office longer than any man in Indiana, yet he is not widely known and is not regarded as a politician. Some of the statehouse politicians took time today to look up Judge Black's record in office. They found that he was reporter of the supreme court in 1868. He held the position nine years. He held an appointive position with the supreme court for many years, and after it was abolished and the appellate court was created he was nominated for appellate judge and nominated. He was out of office during the four years' control of the Democrats gained in 1892, but he bobbed up serenely in 1896 and has since been on the appellate bench. Some of the politicians say he must have a rabbit's foot, for he has had great luck. He has won time after time without being well known or making a vigorous effort. He seems to win out without trying. C. C. Hadley, deputy attorney general, will be a candidate for appellate judge for this district and will try to break Judge Black's long string of victories. He said today that he will enter the race.

The Republican nomination for mayor here will probably be made the last week of June. If Bookwalter is renominated he will have achieved the greatest personal political victory of his career, for practically all of the influential party leaders are arrayed against him. Bookwalter, however, is an optimist on his own chances. He did not see two years ago how he could be beaten, yet the handwriting of defeat was on the wall for nearly a month before the election. He has started in to make an entirely new organization to fight the "all star" aggregation that is backing Stalnaker. The latter's managers are telling Republicans everywhere that they are against Bookwalter, not for personal reasons, but because they feel that he can't be elected. Bookwalter's friends say it is a specious plea. It remains to be seen which side is more convincing. The "little fellows" who frequently do things in the primaries, are buzzing around busily for Bookwalter and they may turn the trick for him. Stalnaker has many of the leading lights of the party, but they may not prove as strong in the primaries as the "little fellows"—at least that is the way Bookwalter and his followers figure.

May Break with the Force. Constantinople, May 22.—Roumania insists upon reparation for the act of the vail of Yanina in arresting several Roumanian school inspectors in spite of the privileges conferred upon them by the ports. The Roumanian government declares that unless this demand for reparation is complied with, relations with Turkey will be broken off.

Highwaymen at Clarksville. Clarksville, Ind., May 22.—While on their way from their places of business Messrs. Clinton Noll and John Andrews were waylaid by two men and money to the extent of $250, a gold watch and other valuables were taken.

Notable Women

Plucky Explorers and Travelers of the Feminine Sex

Miss Martha Craig, a brilliant and brave young woman, has made remarkable explorations in lands of which little is known. Two years ago she returned from a journey of 500 miles in a canoe in Canada. She made the journey alone with two Indian guides, whom she trusted perfectly and who, perhaps for that reason, were as faithful as two guardian angels.

Miss Craig penetrated far into the Canadian wilderness, where few white persons ever venture. She was rewarded by a series of thrilling adventures and intensely interesting information in regard to Indians yet uncontaminated by the influence of the white man. She declares she found these "savages" in some respects better real Christians than the average civilized man is. Investigations among the Ojibways show that they, too, have traditions of a great deliverer and redeemer who descended from heaven as a man to save the earth's people from being destroyed by their own wickedness. The Indian savior had, however, a wife, the divine woman, who came from heaven with him. His name was Mitchiwabun.

Last summer Miss Craig went to Labrador, obtaining many photographs and taking notes of the wild scenery and sparse life there. Returning, she came near going down in a shipwreck. This plucky and gifted woman has some original ideas. For one thing, she says the masculine sex is stupefying itself with tobacco and meat.

The champion woman traveler of the world is Miss J. A. Ackerman, missionary, explorer and lecturer. She has been all around the globe six times, has lived among cannibals and visited the King of the Ainos, the aborigines of Japan.

The little Alaska interested the woman traveler as much as any people she saw. Specimens of this strange race were on exhibit at the St. Louis fair. Their bodies are covered with a growth of hair like that on an animal, which gives the small people an uncanny look. The women have blue mustaches tattooed upon their upper lips. When an Aino girl is married a bar is tattooed across her forehead and another around her wrist, perhaps so she can never pass herself off for single.

There lately retired from public school No. 21, Brooklyn, its principal, Miss Kate E. McWilliams, after fifty years' active service as a teacher. She had been a principal forty-eight years, which is said to be the lengthiest record of any American at least in such capacity.

Miss McWilliams has a rare, sweet face which bears little mark of age. A teacher who has been acquainted with her many years says of her: "She was the loveliest woman I have ever known. Miss McWilliams had a remarkable power of discipline and maintaining order in a school, that, too, by her simple word and presence."

She retired on a pension of $1,250 a year, half her salary as principal.

Miss Laura Drake Gill, A. M., is dean of Barnard college, the woman's branch of Columbia university. Besides being an American college graduate she also studied at the universities of Leipzig and Geneva and at the Sorbonne, Paris. Dean Gill in a recent address declared it is not college women who seek divorce from their husbands. Thoroughly disciplined mentally, the college bred girl looks on marriage as a "serious chance for service." At the same time college women demand a high standard in man. "The world needs a propaganda of work," says Dean Gill.

The editor in chief of the Chicago woman's daily, the Review, has had ample newspaper training and has, besides, ideas original with herself. For one thing Mrs. Ella Hamilton Durley declares herself unalterably opposed to making a newspaper a criminal calendar. She is for printing "all the news that is good news." Mrs. Durley went from Iowa to Chicago. She was formerly editor of a department on a Des Moines paper.

NO FEE TO FISH

In Michigan, the Mecca This Year of Indiana Tourists as in Years Past.

Positive information received from Michigan authorities states that there is no truth whatever in report that an annual fee of $5 or any other fee is to be imposed on non-resident fishermen in Michigan. A rumor of such a law having been passed in Michigan is stamped as absolutely without foundation. The origin of this false report is traced to talk current last winter when a question was raised in legislative proceedings concerning the subject, but no action taken, legislators not deeming such a measure advisable. Nothing further has been done, and tourists from Indiana are assured that they need not forego their customary outing to Michigan resorts this summer on the score of being confronted by a tax collector, for there are none such to bar the way.

Judging from the many inquiries already received by W. W. Richardson, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines, Indianapolis, regarding Michigan resorts and the famous fishing, there will be more than the usual number of Indiana tourists enjoy their summer outing in those health and pleasure havens where neither bay fever nor fishing fever exist.

START OUT TUESDAY

Commission Will Spend Tomorrow At Columbus.

The Governor and the other four members of the Southeastern Indiana Hospital Commission will start out tomorrow morning to begin the task of viewing the sites proposed by a half dozen cities. The commission will spend tomorrow at Columbus, stopping on the way down as we understand, to view a proposed site at Taylorsville.

Wednesday they will spend at Seymour, but just what hour they will arrive here has not been determined yet. The Commissioners will have a busy day here since there are so many good sites to offer and they will want to see all of them. Besides the sites they will doubtless take time to observe for themselves the general advantages Seymour possesses. And since the advantages and facilities of Seymour are so far superior to those any other city in the district can offer our people count the fullest investigation and the closest inspection. Seymour is ready for the Commission.

L. F. MILLER & CO.

It Is A Good One.

The new "Railroad Jack," the great comedy success, will make its first appearance at the opera house tomorrow night, and no doubt be accorded a welcome second to none. The company is headed by that dainty singing and dancing soubrette, Miss Madelon Cauffman, and Jas. De Noyer, character comedian, with an adequate support and superb scenic surroundings.

Man's Unreasonableness

is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasoning, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick she could hardly leave her bed, and five physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guarantee by W. F. Peter Drug Co. Price 50c.

PLANTING MONEY

In your house in the shape of good, honest, thoroughly seasoned, and therefore damp-resisting, lumber, always pays in the long run. Less repairs, for one thing; fewer eyesores in the shape of warped, twisted and generally shrunk-out-of-shape windows and doors for another. Honest lumber awaits your call at this yard of
